1. WHAT INFORMATION ABOUT ME IS COLLECTED?

Depending on your use of the Service, we may collect two types of information: personally identifiable information and non-personally identifiable information.

Personally Identifiable Information

Personally identifiable information is information that identifies you or can be used to identify or contact you. Such information may include your name, address, e-mail address, telephone number, Internet Protocol address, CPU serial number, hard drive information, support ticket information, console-specific online ID, Steam ID/user name, Steam profile picture, gamer tag, App user preferences (e.g. language, dark mode, time zone, purchased content, favorites, etc.), customer/user ID, username, avatar, gender, age, profession, date of birth, current location, records of products or services purchased, obtained, or considered, or other purchasing or consuming histories or tendencies, racing statistics (including license level, skill level, and safety rating), and information relating to social media presence of iRacing.com users. Additionally, our Outside Contractor (as defined below) that is responsible for billing and payment processing services (the “Payment Services Provider”) may collect your billing and credit card information from you directly. Personally identifiable information amounts to ‘personal data’ for the purposes of and as defined in the European Data Protection Laws. All references to personally identifiable information shall be deemed to include ‘personal data’ as defined and used in the European Data Protection Laws (to the extent applicable).

In particular, we would like you to be aware that the Sim uses algorithms to construct profiles about individual users and therefore we may use the personally identifiable information described above so that an evaluation can be made about your behavior and performance (among other things) in the form of racing statistics (including license level, skill level, and safety rating). Under the European Data Protection Laws (to the extent applicable), this usage may be considered profiling. The European Data Protection Laws define "profiling" as "any form of automated processing of personally identifiable information consisting of the use of personally identifiable information to evaluate certain personal aspects relating to a natural person, in particular to analyze or predict aspects concerning that natural person's performance at work, economic situation, health, personal preferences, interests, reliability, behavior, location or movements". To the extent iRacing.com's processing constitutes profiling under the European Data Protection Laws (to the extent applicable), you have the right to specifically object to the processing of your personally identifiable information for the purpose of profiling in accordance with Section 12 below. To learn more, please reach out to support@iracing.com.

Non-Personally Identifiable Information

Non-personally identifiable information is information, any single of item of which, by itself, cannot be used to identify or contact you, including non-identifiable demographic information, browsing history, search history, information on your interaction with a website, application, or advertisement, browser types, unique device identifiers, device types, requested URL, referring URL, browser language, the pages you view, the date and time of your visit, domain names, and statistical data involving the use of the Service. Certain non-personally identifiable information may be considered a part of your personally identifiable information if it were combined with other identifiers (for example, combining your zip code with your street address) in a way that enables you to be identified. However, the same pieces of information are considered non-personally identifiable information when they are taken alone or combined only with other non-personally identifiable information (for example, your viewing preferences) in a way that would not enable you to be identified.

2. WHERE AND WHEN IS INFORMATION COLLECTED (INCLUDING THROUGH THE USE OF COOKIES AND ACTION TAGS)?

We will collect personally identifiable information that you submit to us. We may also receive personally identifiable information about you from third parties, including third parties providing credit and debit card authorization and fraud screening services as part of your use of the Sim, as well as analytics service providers and, with respect to the Service, video game digital distribution service providers. Additionally, if you are a Sim user, we may receive your email address from another user if you refer such other user to us.

Registering to Use the Service and in the Course of Using the Service.

You may be required to establish an account in order to take advantage of certain features of the Service. If so, if you wish to establish an account you will be required to provide us with information (including personally identifiable information and non-personally identifiable information) such as name, postal address, e-mail address, birth date and including credit card and billing information directly to the Payment Services Provider. We may also receive personally identifiable information about you from third parties providing credit and debit card authorization and fraud screening services as part of the registration process. In addition, we may obtain your personally identifiable information from you if you identify yourself to us by communicating with us, including through any of our Apps or by sending us an e-mail with questions or comments. Also, we will have access to any personally identifiable information that you choose to share through the Service (such as your name, which will not only be available to us but will be displayed to other users of the Sim).

Finally, you should be aware that advertisers and other third parties may use their own cookies or action tags when you click on their advertisement or a link to their websites or services on or from the Service. This Privacy Policy does not govern the use of cookies or action tags or the use of your information by such third-party websites or services or providers of third-party advertising. For the avoidance of doubt, the Service may use third-party service platforms (including to help analyze how users use the Service). These third-party service platforms may place cookies on your computer or mobile device. Additionally, certain of our commercial partners may place cookies on your computer or mobile device in order to understand how you interact with the Service, as well as such commercial partners' services or content. 5. WILL OTHER USERS OF THE SIM HAVE ACCESS TO MY INFORMATION?

In order to discourage misuse of the Sim, except in extraordinary circumstances as agreed to by iRacing.com in its sole discretion, all users of the Sim will be identified to other users of the Sim by their real names (or variations of their names, such as their names followed by a numeral), not by user names, aliases or other similar devices.
